Art Theefe

Art Theefe share a heritage with many of rock, soul, folk and country's most illustrious artists: timeless song writing, soulful performances, and artful musicianship. As well as Josh Rigal from the excellent Little Brother Eli, Art Theefe boasts the presence of Matt Sage, Dylanesque, Van Morrisonian, bluesy songwriter and man behind the outstanding Catweazle Club. "Art Theefe rock rather splendidly, are impressively tight and offer pleasing variety" – Nightshift.

Sky Coloured

Americana UK described London wide-screen jazz pop beast Sky Coloured as "like Saturday Night and Sunday Morning scored by Miles Davis", and who are we to argue? Light, funky, keyboard-driven, with the possibility of intermittent patches of strings and scattered showers of brass. Smooth, sophisticated, and addictive.

The Missing Persians

Rootsy music delivered with more of a wink to open, with The Missing Persians' impersonation of Squeeze rocking a rhythm 'n' blues roadhouse. "A pleasant surprise to have a first album with so much variation. A different sort of band that can't be put into any one genre, they are 'The Missing Persians' and the music is their own. An excellent take!" – Lancashire Blues Archive.
