

Saturday 31st Mar '18

Little Red

Kiva

A Different Thread

The Wheatsheaf, Oxford.

Doors 8:20pm - Entry £4.50

£3.50 in advance from <http://www.wegotickets.com/gappytooth>

www.gappytooth.com

Saturday 31st Mar '18

Little Red

Kiva

A Different Thread

The Wheatsheaf, Oxford.

Doors 8:20pm - Entry £4.50

£3.50 in advance from <http://www.wegotickets.com/gappytooth>

www.gappytooth.com

Saturday 31st Mar '18

Little Red

Kiva

A Different Thread

The Wheatsheaf, Oxford.

Doors 8:20pm - Entry £4.50

£3.50 in advance from <http://www.wegotickets.com/gappytooth>

www.gappytooth.com

Saturday 31st Mar '18

Little Red

Kiva

A Different Thread

The Wheatsheaf, Oxford.

Doors 8:20pm - Entry £4.50

£3.50 in advance from <http://www.wegotickets.com/gappytooth>

www.gappytooth.com

Little Red

Oxfordshire and Berkshire's foremost macabre folk spellcasters. "'What Say You', is just charming. From a clean finger-picked guitar figure, that has a whiff of the cosy, unflurried '70s library music style that Trunk Records christened Fuzzy Felt Folk, closely entwined male and female vocals bob on a charming little melody, like a toy boat on a choppy duckpond. It sounds limpidly lovely, but like so many great folk tunes, the jaunty music hides a black heart, the lyrics telling of betrayal, disappointment and visceral knife crime" Music In Oxford.

<http://www.littleredband.co.uk>

Kiva

Kiva brings to the stage a lighter, eclectic mix of powerful songs and beautiful harmonies. They write original material that draws on traditions as diverse as folk, pop, indie-rock, and classical music. Their songs twist and turn in unexpected directions yet always keep melody at their heart. Their words explore life and love, by turns funny, sad, lost, and found.

<http://www.kivaband.uk>

A Different Thread

A Different Thread play what they are calling 'British-Americana' pulling from the roots of traditional American and British music alike, weaving together aspects of country, blues and folk with classical undertones and a hint of bluegrass. This solo performance by front-man Robert Jackson tells tales of his latest adventures that will "certainly touch your heart" (BBC 6 Music).

<http://www.facebook.com/adifferentthread>

Little Red

Oxfordshire and Berkshire's foremost macabre folk spellcasters. "'What Say You', is just charming. From a clean finger-picked guitar figure, that has a whiff of the cosy, unflurried '70s library music style that Trunk Records christened Fuzzy Felt Folk, closely entwined male and female vocals bob on a charming little melody, like a toy boat on a choppy duckpond. It sounds limpidly lovely, but like so many great folk tunes, the jaunty music hides a black heart, the lyrics telling of betrayal, disappointment and visceral knife crime" Music In Oxford.

<http://www.littleredband.co.uk>

Kiva

Kiva brings to the stage a lighter, eclectic mix of powerful songs and beautiful harmonies. They write original material that draws on traditions as diverse as folk, pop, indie-rock, and classical music. Their songs twist and turn in unexpected directions yet always keep melody at their heart. Their words explore life and love, by turns funny, sad, lost, and found.

<http://www.kivaband.uk>

A Different Thread

A Different Thread play what they are calling 'British-Americana' pulling from the roots of traditional American and British music alike, weaving together aspects of country, blues and folk with classical undertones and a hint of bluegrass. This solo performance by front-man Robert Jackson tells tales of his latest adventures that will "certainly touch your heart" (BBC 6 Music).

<http://www.facebook.com/adifferentthread>

Little Red

Oxfordshire and Berkshire's foremost macabre folk spellcasters. "'What Say You', is just charming. From a clean finger-picked guitar figure, that has a whiff of the cosy, unflurried '70s library music style that Trunk Records christened Fuzzy Felt Folk, closely entwined male and female vocals bob on a charming little melody, like a toy boat on a choppy duckpond. It sounds limpidly lovely, but like so many great folk tunes, the jaunty music hides a black heart, the lyrics telling of betrayal, disappointment and visceral knife crime" Music In Oxford.

<http://www.littleredband.co.uk>

Kiva

Kiva brings to the stage a lighter, eclectic mix of powerful songs and beautiful harmonies. They write original material that draws on traditions as diverse as folk, pop, indie-rock, and classical music. Their songs twist and turn in unexpected directions yet always keep melody at their heart. Their words explore life and love, by turns funny, sad, lost, and found.

<http://www.kivaband.uk>

A Different Thread

A Different Thread play what they are calling 'British-Americana' pulling from the roots of traditional American and British music alike, weaving together aspects of country, blues and folk with classical undertones and a hint of bluegrass. This solo performance by front-man Robert Jackson tells tales of his latest adventures that will "certainly touch your heart" (BBC 6 Music).

<http://www.facebook.com/adifferentthread>

Little Red

Oxfordshire and Berkshire's foremost macabre folk spellcasters. "'What Say You', is just charming. From a clean finger-picked guitar figure, that has a whiff of the cosy, unflurried '70s library music style that Trunk Records christened Fuzzy Felt Folk, closely entwined male and female vocals bob on a charming little melody, like a toy boat on a choppy duckpond. It sounds limpidly lovely, but like so many great folk tunes, the jaunty music hides a black heart, the lyrics telling of betrayal, disappointment and visceral knife crime" Music In Oxford.

<http://www.littleredband.co.uk>

Kiva

Kiva brings to the stage a lighter, eclectic mix of powerful songs and beautiful harmonies. They write original material that draws on traditions as diverse as folk, pop, indie-rock, and classical music. Their songs twist and turn in unexpected directions yet always keep melody at their heart. Their words explore life and love, by turns funny, sad, lost, and found.

<http://www.kivaband.uk>

A Different Thread

A Different Thread play what they are calling 'British-Americana' pulling from the roots of traditional American and British music alike, weaving together aspects of country, blues and folk with classical undertones and a hint of bluegrass. This solo performance by front-man Robert Jackson tells tales of his latest adventures that will "certainly touch your heart" (BBC 6 Music).

<http://www.facebook.com/adifferentthread>