

Friday 31st Jan '25

Common Ground, Little Clarendon Street, Oxford

Entry £5.00 (cash only) Door 8.00pm

£4.00 in advance from <https://www.wegottickets.com/gappytooth>

www.gappytooth.com

Friday 31st Jan '25

Common Ground, Little Clarendon Street, Oxford

Entry £5.00 (cash only) Door 8.00pm

£4.00 in advance from <https://www.wegottickets.com/gappytooth>

www.gappytooth.com

Friday 31st Jan '25

Common Ground, Little Clarendon Street, Oxford

Entry £5.00 (cash only) Door 8.00pm

£4.00 in advance from <https://www.wegottickets.com/gappytooth>

www.gappytooth.com

Friday 31st Jan '25

Common Ground, Little Clarendon Street, Oxford

Entry £5.00 (cash only) Door 8.00pm

£4.00 in advance from <https://www.wegottickets.com/gappytooth>

www.gappytooth.com

Mount St Helen

Mount St. Helen is the brainchild of Aris Sabetai, a 21-year-old multi-instrumentalist based between London and Oxford. Starting the project in lockdown, the music blends the love of 90s guitar music with ethereal string arrangements and pop sensibilities – all written, self-produced and recorded in his dorm room at university, though the live show features a full band. Although frequently focusing on themes of nostalgia, faithlessness and loser-dom, the music of Mount St. Helen is ultimately a celebration of difference, optimism and hope.

www.instagram.com/mount.st.helen

Empires, Empires

Empires, Empires is an intercontinental art-rock band based in Reading, England. Mixing melodic violin, diverse rhythms, and heartfelt songwriting, their intricate song structures and spontaneous improvisation has recently made them a prominent act on London's alternative music circuit. Every gig they play is different, with new ideas bubbling up so quickly they can barely be processed, but without losing sight of uplifting melodies.

www.empiresempires.bandcamp.com

Taylor & Girish

Taylor & Girish are a husband-wife indie folk duo based in Oxford. Their sound is a unique, rootsy blend of genres including folk, blues and bluegrass, and a touch of jazz, with tight harmonies and intricate guitar work. Their music equally draws from the singer-songwriter lineage of the 60s and 70s artists such as Joni Mitchell, James Taylor and Paul Simon as it does from the modern writers such as Andrew Bird, Ben Howard and Laura Marling.

www.taylorandgirish.com

Mount St Helen

Mount St. Helen is the brainchild of Aris Sabetai, a 21-year-old multi-instrumentalist based between London and Oxford. Starting the project in lockdown, the music blends the love of 90s guitar music with ethereal string arrangements and pop sensibilities – all written, self-produced and recorded in his dorm room at university, though the live show features a full band. Although frequently focusing on themes of nostalgia, faithlessness and loser-dom, the music of Mount St. Helen is ultimately a celebration of difference, optimism and hope.

www.instagram.com/mount.st.helen

Empires, Empires

Empires, Empires is an intercontinental art-rock band based in Reading, England. Mixing melodic violin, diverse rhythms, and heartfelt songwriting, their intricate song structures and spontaneous improvisation has recently made them a prominent act on London's alternative music circuit. Every gig they play is different, with new ideas bubbling up so quickly they can barely be processed, but without losing sight of uplifting melodies.

www.empiresempires.bandcamp.com

Taylor & Girish

Taylor & Girish are a husband-wife indie folk duo based in Oxford. Their sound is a unique, rootsy blend of genres including folk, blues and bluegrass, and a touch of jazz, with tight harmonies and intricate guitar work. Their music equally draws from the singer-songwriter lineage of the 60s and 70s artists such as Joni Mitchell, James Taylor and Paul Simon as it does from the modern writers such as Andrew Bird, Ben Howard and Laura Marling.

www.taylorandgirish.com

Mount St Helen

Mount St. Helen is the brainchild of Aris Sabetai, a 21-year-old multi-instrumentalist based between London and Oxford. Starting the project in lockdown, the music blends the love of 90s guitar music with ethereal string arrangements and pop sensibilities – all written, self-produced and recorded in his dorm room at university, though the live show features a full band. Although frequently focusing on themes of nostalgia, faithlessness and loser-dom, the music of Mount St. Helen is ultimately a celebration of difference, optimism and hope.

www.instagram.com/mount.st.helen

Empires, Empires

Empires, Empires is an intercontinental art-rock band based in Reading, England. Mixing melodic violin, diverse rhythms, and heartfelt songwriting, their intricate song structures and spontaneous improvisation has recently made them a prominent act on London's alternative music circuit. Every gig they play is different, with new ideas bubbling up so quickly they can barely be processed, but without losing sight of uplifting melodies.

www.empiresempires.bandcamp.com

Taylor & Girish

Taylor & Girish are a husband-wife indie folk duo based in Oxford. Their sound is a unique, rootsy blend of genres including folk, blues and bluegrass, and a touch of jazz, with tight harmonies and intricate guitar work. Their music equally draws from the singer-songwriter lineage of the 60s and 70s artists such as Joni Mitchell, James Taylor and Paul Simon as it does from the modern writers such as Andrew Bird, Ben Howard and Laura Marling.

www.taylorandgirish.com

Mount St Helen

Mount St. Helen is the brainchild of Aris Sabetai, a 21-year-old multi-instrumentalist based between London and Oxford. Starting the project in lockdown, the music blends the love of 90s guitar music with ethereal string arrangements and pop sensibilities – all written, self-produced and recorded in his dorm room at university, though the live show features a full band. Although frequently focusing on themes of nostalgia, faithlessness and loser-dom, the music of Mount St. Helen is ultimately a celebration of difference, optimism and hope.

www.instagram.com/mount.st.helen

Empires, Empires

Empires, Empires is an intercontinental art-rock band based in Reading, England. Mixing melodic violin, diverse rhythms, and heartfelt songwriting, their intricate song structures and spontaneous improvisation has recently made them a prominent act on London's alternative music circuit. Every gig they play is different, with new ideas bubbling up so quickly they can barely be processed, but without losing sight of uplifting melodies.

www.empiresempires.bandcamp.com

Taylor & Girish

Taylor & Girish are a husband-wife indie folk duo based in Oxford. Their sound is a unique, rootsy blend of genres including folk, blues and bluegrass, and a touch of jazz, with tight harmonies and intricate guitar work. Their music equally draws from the singer-songwriter lineage of the 60s and 70s artists such as Joni Mitchell, James Taylor and Paul Simon as it does from the modern writers such as Andrew Bird, Ben Howard and Laura Marling.

www.taylorandgirish.com