Vernons Future

Erudite and literate indie pop in the style of Black, Aztec Camera, XTC, or Lloyd Cole from Oxford and London crew Vernons Future. Having released their debut album way back in 1990 - "A fine debut in love with pop at its most unassuming and most charming" Melody maker – the band went on hiatus for yonks, but are now back! Back!! BACK!!! (as Smash Hits would have it). "A deft blend of indie moves and unashamed pop grooves" Big Takeover; "A cracking slice of indie rock... blending a late-80's Scouse indie-rock sensibility with the swagger of Julian Cope" Slacker Shack. <https://linktr.ee/vernonfuture>

The Velveten Orkestra

The Velveten Orkestra are a ragged-trousered rock and roll orchestra conceived in a leaky, shadow-veiled district of South London. Their pulsating live shows are attracting audiences for their rich romanticism and brooding intensity, as well as their sparkling sense of humour. Their pop cabaret sound is pure carnivalesque opulence coupled with post-punk venom and snarl. This will be a rare stripped-back performance (chamber orkestra, if you will). <https://www.soundcloud.com/thevelvetenorkestra>

The Holy Fools

The Holy Fools combine deep traditional roots with cosmopolitan sensibilities to craft a distinctive brand of Americana. Although they were formed in Oxfordshire, their singer Chris Floyd hails from the hills and valleys of rural Tennessee. Also featured in Jim Driscoll on lead guitar, possibly familiar to Gappynauts as a member of The Drugsquad and accompanist to Paul Lodge. <https://www.theholyfools.com>
