

Friday 27th Mar '26

Common Ground, Little Clarendon Street, Oxford

HööF
Sleep Room
Dilemma

Entry £6.00 (cash only) Door 8.00pm
£5.00 in advance from <https://www.wegottickets.com/gappytooth>
www.gappytooth.com

Friday 27th Mar '26

Common Ground, Little Clarendon Street, Oxford

HööF
Sleep Room
Dilemma

Entry £6.00 (cash only) Door 8.00pm
£5.00 in advance from <https://www.wegottickets.com/gappytooth>
www.gappytooth.com

Friday 27th Mar '26

Common Ground, Little Clarendon Street, Oxford

HööF
Sleep Room
Dilemma

Entry £6.00 (cash only) Door 8.00pm
£5.00 in advance from <https://www.wegottickets.com/gappytooth>
www.gappytooth.com

Friday 27th Mar '26

Common Ground, Little Clarendon Street, Oxford

HööF
Sleep Room
Dilemma

Entry £6.00 (cash only) Door 8.00pm
£5.00 in advance from <https://www.wegottickets.com/gappytooth>
www.gappytooth.com

HööF

HööF are noteworthy for two things. Firstly, their weird and wonky band name makes our word processor software very frustrated. Secondly, and more importantly, they make the most lovely and inventive indie rock which has garnered them support from BBC Introducing in Oxfordshire & Berkshire as well as sets at Truck and Are You Listening? festivals. Their music takes the frothiest beauty from your favourite vintage 4AD tracks and adds a little pinch of grunge flavour, which is why they describe themselves as "sweet 'n' sour indie guitar pop". "They deal indie guitar greatness for the masses" What's On Reading.
<https://linktr.ee/hooof.band>

Sleep Room

Reading's Sleep Room are a fitting companion, their epic, impassioned indie sound generating layers, textures and soundscapes which push the envelope without ever tearing it, each song a journey with a destination in mind and a project of considered invention. In GTI history terms, imagine something between the rousing choruses of Fell City Girl and the cinematic stadium explosions of Mount St Helen.
www.facebook.com/sleeproom

Dilemma

Dilemma are a neo-psych, post-punk duo from Banbury built around the tight, magnetic interplay of Chris Oakes (bass, vocals) and Simon Dwight (guitar, keyboards, backing vocals). Their sound blends wiry new wave rhythms with swirling psychedelic textures, balancing tension and atmosphere in equal measure. Chris also runs the excellent Strummer Room Presents gigs in Banbury, with whom we've shared many an act.
<https://strummerroomrecords.bandcamp.com/album/dilemma-the-record-shop-recordings>

HööF

HööF are noteworthy for two things. Firstly, their weird and wonky band name makes our word processor software very frustrated. Secondly, and more importantly, they make the most lovely and inventive indie rock which has garnered them support from BBC Introducing in Oxfordshire & Berkshire as well as sets at Truck and Are You Listening? festivals. Their music takes the frothiest beauty from your favourite vintage 4AD tracks and adds a little pinch of grunge flavour, which is why they describe themselves as "sweet 'n' sour indie guitar pop". "They deal indie guitar greatness for the masses" What's On Reading.
<https://linktr.ee/hooof.band>

Sleep Room

Reading's Sleep Room are a fitting companion, their epic, impassioned indie sound generating layers, textures and soundscapes which push the envelope without ever tearing it, each song a journey with a destination in mind and a project of considered invention. In GTI history terms, imagine something between the rousing choruses of Fell City Girl and the cinematic stadium explosions of Mount St Helen.
www.facebook.com/sleeproom

Dilemma

Dilemma are a neo-psych, post-punk duo from Banbury built around the tight, magnetic interplay of Chris Oakes (bass, vocals) and Simon Dwight (guitar, keyboards, backing vocals). Their sound blends wiry new wave rhythms with swirling psychedelic textures, balancing tension and atmosphere in equal measure. Chris also runs the excellent Strummer Room Presents gigs in Banbury, with whom we've shared many an act.
<https://strummerroomrecords.bandcamp.com/album/dilemma-the-record-shop-recordings>

HööF

HööF are noteworthy for two things. Firstly, their weird and wonky band name makes our word processor software very frustrated. Secondly, and more importantly, they make the most lovely and inventive indie rock which has garnered them support from BBC Introducing in Oxfordshire & Berkshire as well as sets at Truck and Are You Listening? festivals. Their music takes the frothiest beauty from your favourite vintage 4AD tracks and adds a little pinch of grunge flavour, which is why they describe themselves as "sweet 'n' sour indie guitar pop". "They deal indie guitar greatness for the masses" What's On Reading.
<https://linktr.ee/hooof.band>

Sleep Room

Reading's Sleep Room are a fitting companion, their epic, impassioned indie sound generating layers, textures and soundscapes which push the envelope without ever tearing it, each song a journey with a destination in mind and a project of considered invention. In GTI history terms, imagine something between the rousing choruses of Fell City Girl and the cinematic stadium explosions of Mount St Helen.
www.facebook.com/sleeproom

Dilemma

Dilemma are a neo-psych, post-punk duo from Banbury built around the tight, magnetic interplay of Chris Oakes (bass, vocals) and Simon Dwight (guitar, keyboards, backing vocals). Their sound blends wiry new wave rhythms with swirling psychedelic textures, balancing tension and atmosphere in equal measure. Chris also runs the excellent Strummer Room Presents gigs in Banbury, with whom we've shared many an act.
<https://strummerroomrecords.bandcamp.com/album/dilemma-the-record-shop-recordings>

HööF

HööF are noteworthy for two things. Firstly, their weird and wonky band name makes our word processor software very frustrated. Secondly, and more importantly, they make the most lovely and inventive indie rock which has garnered them support from BBC Introducing in Oxfordshire & Berkshire as well as sets at Truck and Are You Listening? festivals. Their music takes the frothiest beauty from your favourite vintage 4AD tracks and adds a little pinch of grunge flavour, which is why they describe themselves as "sweet 'n' sour indie guitar pop". "They deal indie guitar greatness for the masses" What's On Reading.
<https://linktr.ee/hooof.band>

Sleep Room

Reading's Sleep Room are a fitting companion, their epic, impassioned indie sound generating layers, textures and soundscapes which push the envelope without ever tearing it, each song a journey with a destination in mind and a project of considered invention. In GTI history terms, imagine something between the rousing choruses of Fell City Girl and the cinematic stadium explosions of Mount St Helen.
www.facebook.com/sleeproom

Dilemma

Dilemma are a neo-psych, post-punk duo from Banbury built around the tight, magnetic interplay of Chris Oakes (bass, vocals) and Simon Dwight (guitar, keyboards, backing vocals). Their sound blends wiry new wave rhythms with swirling psychedelic textures, balancing tension and atmosphere in equal measure. Chris also runs the excellent Strummer Room Presents gigs in Banbury, with whom we've shared many an act.
<https://strummerroomrecords.bandcamp.com/album/dilemma-the-record-shop-recordings>